1. The individuals on the attached listing are Professional Trainees selected by the Office of Logistics to receive in-depth training in a variety of logistical functions which will equip them to serve in responsible Logistics positions both at Headquarters and overseas. Depending on experience and training, participants are brought into this program at the GS-07 through GS-09 levels for training lasting from 1 to 3 years. Upon promotion to the GS-10 level, their titles and occupational codes are changed to Logistics Officer, a category which has been approved for overseas pay. ☐

2. Because the program is relatively new (approximately 3 years), we cannot point to the "Professional Trainee" as a category with an established track record of CIARDS participants; however, certain meaningful data can be presented:
